Friends of the Philharmonic

The Friends of the Pikes Peak Philharmonic (PPP) welcome men and women interested in helping the PPP in presenting four programs a year. The Friends are an essential organization for the PPP. Without Friends, our musician managed organization just can't get the job done with the finesse that the Friends provide. The Friends offer valuable opportunities to help promote awareness of the PPP concerts, related events and music education activities in the region. The Friends organization needs you to contribute a little of your time and talent. Volunteers ready for a rewarding and fun experience should call 685-6468 or go to www.pikespeakphil.org and click on volunteer opportunities.

PIKES PEAK
PHILHARMONIC

The Pikes Peak Philharmonic was formed in 1965 to provide additional playing opportunities for students at Colorado College. Initially known as the Colorado Springs Community Orchestra in 1965, it quickly expanded to include musicians from the larger community. In 1972, the orchestra came under the direction and sponsorship of the Colorado Springs Symphony. In 1986, the symphony's finances made it impossible to continue sponsoring the orchestra. With the loss of this performing outlet, several of the orchestra's musicians incorporated as a 501(c)3 non-profit organization, the Pikes Peak Community Orchestra; the orchestra changed its name to Pikes Peak Civic Orchestra before being known by its current name, Pikes Peak Philharmonic.

Music lovers can readily hear their friends and neighbors perform high quality classical music at affordable prices. Talented musicians have an outlet for their non-vocational musical skills. Membership in the Pikes Peak Philharmonic is by invitation or audition. Auditions are held in August of each year. The Pikes Peak Philharmonic is funded through ticket sales, corporate and individual donations, and musician membership dues. Information on concert schedules, donations, auditions, or ticket sales is available by calling (719) 685-6468 or by visiting our website at www.pikespeakphil.org.
